

Ink is just ink, right?

You may think that ink is just ink, however the ink may just be the piece in the puzzle, the detail, that completes the job for you.

Frontmatec high performance food ink is especially composed for the food industry and our markers are developed to ensure accurate and clear prints, allowing you to print up to three lines or EC marks, even on curved surfaces.

Combining the high quality ink with the matching high quality Frontmatec markers will improve the lifetime, operational quality and at the same time add low maintenance and high food safety.

Depending on the equipment, our food ink provides you with benefits such as, withstanding both the singeing oven and the blast freezer, ink that prevents your printer from solidifying and and high food safety.
